

LAS POSITAS COLLEGE WORK-BASED LEARNING

If You Have an Internship, Volunteer Work, or a Job—Any Job—You Can Earn College Units!

- If you have a job or steady volunteer work, enroll in Work Experience 95/96.
- If you have an internship, enroll in Internship 1/2.
- The class combinations are co-requisites: a one-unit seminar and your work experience.
- Learn essential 21st century work skills that employers seek in job candidates.
- Create learning objectives you will accomplish during the semester.

- Depending on the number of hours you work, you can earn up to four units per semester: one unit for the seminar and up to three units for your work. Units are transferrable to CSU. Check with the Counseling Office for transfer information.

If You Want an Internship

Register with College Central Network, posted on our homepage, where you can search internships, get email alerts about positions, find tips on interviewing and résumé writing, and much more. ### What Students Are Saying

"I got college credit for working and achieving learning objectives in my current job. My supervisor was so impressed with my improvement that she gave me a raise. In the seminar, I learned how to write a great résumé, communicate with my boss and co-workers, and prepare for a job interview. What I learned in this class will help me when I pursue my dream career."

"I feel more confident after completing my internship. Plus, I know that having job references and real work experience listed on my résumé will help me find a position in this competitive job market."
