These twelve individuals are the active adjuncts in the Business Department for the 2012-2013 Academic Year. Away from LPC, these individuals are leaders in their industries. Each one has received accolades from their peers and has also been recognized for the excellence of their contributions in service to others. These individuals always say "YES" when asked to do one more thing to help students AND can be counted on to willingly lend a hand on one more project. Their students have told us that these twelve individuals are "What's Right at LPC" and we enthusiastically concur with that assessment.
