Source Evaluation Checklist—The CRAAP Test

When you search for information, you're going to find lots of it....but is it good information? You will have to determine that for yourself, and the CRAAP Test can help. The CRAAP Test is a list of questions to help you evaluate the information you find. Different criteria will be more or less important depending on your situation or need. All you need to do is answer YES or NO in each box. When you get to the end and need to decide whether a source is worthy or not, look back at your answers to help you make that determination.
